Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Sandra K. Norlin began her service at the Brookings Public Library as Adult Services Librarian in 1977, and was appointed Director on December 1, 1981; and,

WHEREAS, South Dakota is losing one of its own as Sandra has accepted a new position as Assistant Director at the Champaign Public Library in Champaign, Illinois; and,

WHEREAS, South Dakota is also losing four more South Dakotans since Dennis, Sandra's husband, and their three children are leaving with her; and,

WHEREAS, while Sandra was at the Brookings Public Library, she established a comprehensive library program, created a professional service oriented staff, started a regular radio program about the library, started a regular newspaper column that was instrumental in drawing readers to the books and activities she described, and planned the addition to the Brookings Public Library which was dedicated in 1976; and,

WHEREAS, Sandra has contributed much to the greater library community; and,

WHEREAS, It is fitting and proper for the Governor to make note of the accomplishments of this outstanding citizen:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE S. MICKELSON, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim January 15, 1988, as in South Dakota, and wish her and her family well in their new home.

SANDRA K. NORLIN DAY

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Fifteenth Day of January, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Eight

GEORGE S. MICKELSON, GOVERNOR

ATTEST:

JOYCE HAZELTINE, SECRETARY OF STATE
